The ETC provides investment exposure to physical gold by the Company holding physical London Bullion Market Association (LBMA) gold with the Royal Mint. The ETC has a metal entitlement (“Metal Entitlement Per Security” (“MEPS”)), which is the amount of physical gold backing the ETC) and its daily value is linked to the value of the MEPS. ## What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

← Higher Risk

Lower Risk →

The risk indicator assumes you keep the ETC for 5 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this ETC compared to other ETCs. It shows how likely it is that the ETC will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions could impact the Fund's capacity to pay you..

Be aware of currency risk. The currency of this ETC (and/or the trading line of your ETC securities) may be different from that of your country. As you may receive payments in a currency not that of your country, the final return will depend on the exchange rate.

The ETC does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

What happens if HANetf ETC Securities plc is unable to pay out?

In case of a default by the Company, any claims made against the Company will be satisfied in order of the priority of payments set out in the conditions of the ETC and you may face a financial loss of some, or all of the amount invested.
